The course is limited to a maximum of 20 positions.

Each partner university benefits from one reserved seat.

The language of instruction is English. In case applications are submitted only by Italian students, the Seasonal School will be taught, if possible, in Italian.

ART. 2
ECTS - European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System

The acknowledgement of three (3) European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System is foreseen for students who attend the entire training course. Acquiring ECTS is subject to complying with the attendance obligations and passing the foreseen learning assessment tests.

ART. 3
Educational Objectives

The Seasonal School "CROSSROADS: EU Crises and Post-Brexit Integration" is addressed to students interested in acquiring theoretical and practical knowledge in comparative and European politics and law.

In particular, the training objectives consist in providing theoretical and practical tools to:

- Critically analyse recent crises in the European integration process, and their impact at domestic, transnational and EU level;
- Develop inter- and multi-disciplinary knowledge and approaches to understand complex political processes;
- Hone knowledge that can be used in the working world, in particular in European institutions, interest groups and transnational actors, think tanks, universities and research centres.

The Seasonal School allows students to deepen their understanding of the most recent developments in European integration by combining a theoretical and academic approach with a more applied and policy-oriented perspective.
